

Overall comment:

In case posing additional requirements to companies (especially SME-s and micro-companies), all such proposals should be accompanied by the results of thorough impact analysis, including taking into account the additional burden on the companies and sectors of different sizes and possible measures to relieve this burden. This would be especially important, taking into account the COVID 19 post-crisis economic situation.