Questions to start a discussion:

- What are the opportunities and challenges in Digital Finance in a time of physical social distancing?
- What can Digital Finance players do to help us navigate through the crisis?
- What do you expect from policymakers in facilitating new business models, applications, processes and products in Digital Finance?
- What can policymakers do to help spark a cultural change whereby innovative thinking becomes part of 'business as usual' in developing the EU Digital Finance strategy?
- How do we ensure EU sovereignty and competitiveness in this area, and how can of smaller markets such as the Croatian market contribute to this agenda?
